John,

Please give me a call to discuss the following email. I think it will do the trick but I would like to talk to you about it first.

Best Regards

Asbestos sampling was completed on the concrete and the results were supplied with the specifications for the contract. No other specific sampling has been done on the concrete. There have never been any problems in the past related to the concrete and hazardous materials nor has there been any reason to request testing due to the magazines being used only for containerized storage of munitions. There was no evidence before demolition to suspect contamination, i.e. no suspect areas of spills or open chemical contamination.

If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me.

James

Apparently the landfill where we dispose of the concrete has asked if the concrete coming from the weapons station has any hazardous materials in it. Is the Navy willing to put something in writing stating that the concrete has no hazardous materials in it.

Let me know.
